

Residency in Orthopedic Physical Therapy

The Columbia University Programs in Physical Therapy are accepting applications for the 2021-2022 residency. The learner-centered curriculum is tailored to meet the individual needs of our residents and enable the provision of advanced orthopedic physical therapy care. Residents will be selected for affiliate clinic locations, which include New York Presbyterian Hospital and SPEAR Physical Therapy. Residents can look forward to clinical and professional mentorship from expert clinicians and educators in the field of orthopedic physical therapy.

For information, please contact:
Michael Johnson, PT, DSc, OCS, SCS
Director, Orthopedic Residency
Columbia University Programs in Physical Therapy
Vagelos College of Physicians and Surgeons New York, New York
mj2738@cumc.columbia.edu
columbiaphysicaltherapy.org